Troop-Leader Tips for Leading Your Multi-Level Troop

Keep it Girl-Led

The key to Girl Scouts is making sure the Girl Scouts are leading the experience

- To help Girl Scouts lead, give them concrete choices or options and empower them to choose
- Voting helps everyone have a say in what you do. Ask your Girl Scouts to offer ideas (where to go, what to do) and let everyone vote
- Ask Girl Scouts what girl-led means to them. What parts of Girl Scouts do they want to lead, what do they want the leaders to take on?
- Keep your eyes peeled for opportunities for Girl Scouts to take the lead, even if they are small
- It's OK if it isn't perfect – this is how Girl Scouts learn! As much as you can, stay back and let the Girl Scouts work it out, and even fail
- Learn from and embrace failure; it will help teach you and the Girl Scouts along the way

Engage All Girl Scouts

Try to be flexible in your strategies for engaging Girl Scouts of varying ages

- Offer younger Girl Scouts more concrete guidance to help them express their thoughts
- Older Girl Scouts will have more nuanced understandings of interpersonal interactions and how to take action, as well as more in-depth knowledge about the subject matter. They will bring up more complex concepts, which won't be familiar to younger Girl Scouts. This is a great opportunity to ask older Girl Scouts to share their knowledge with younger Girl Scouts. Ask questions like, "Can you give us an example of that?" or "Can you describe that for everyone in the group?"
- Give older Girl Scouts important tasks during meetings like opening the meeting, leading icebreakers, or planning snacks to keep them engaged
- Younger Girl Scouts will need more adult supervision and it's natural that older Girl Scouts will help them, too. But make sure to treat older Girl Scouts like troop members, not as mini troop leaders.

Involve Caregivers

You are not alone. A strong co-leader-family partnership is key to a successful Girl Scout experience

- Host a parent/caregiver meeting at the beginning of the year to share contact information, plans for the year, expectations, and ask for help.
- Caregivers often want to be involved, but don't know how. Make your request as clear as possible: "Are you able to bring snack next week?"
- Invite caregivers to share their skills and interests at a troop meeting.
- Keep lines of communication wide open. Decide together how best to communicate with all caregivers (email, group text, other?) and stick to it.
- Talk with caregivers about the importance of Girl Scouts taking the lead and encourage them not to jump in if possible

Troop Logistics

Having a clear plan for how you'll run troop meetings and activities will help you in the long run

- Together with your troop, write a troop agreement for how everyone will operate
- Have enough co-leaders to occasionally work with Girl Scouts in separate groups. Remember, co-leaders must be registered, approved adults with a current background check who have completed council-required leader training, at least one of whom is female. See the Safety Activity Checkpoints for girl: adult ratios (Safety page on gswny.org). Reach out to GSWNY if you need help finding more co-leaders.
- It's OK to meet all together with older and younger Girl Scouts, it's OK to work separately, it's OK to do both
- Try out beginning your meeting with the whole troop, and then splitting off into groups with separate co-leaders
- Consider mixing up your groups: some meetings could split off into older Girl Scouts and younger Girl Scouts, another meeting could have a mix.

Activities	Supplies
1. Sing Everywhere Talk about songs and the different occasions some are used. Put all the items on a tray and cover them up. Have girls try to recall each item. Girls can write their answers or work in groups to come up with the answers. Older girl tip: If you have older girls who know about Girl Scouts, a great way to engage them is to have them share with the group Juliette Low Kim's Game Pumpkin - Juliette was born on Oct 31, 1860 Georgia State Quarter - Juliette was born in Savannah, Georgia Daisy - Her uncle took one look at her and said, "She looks like a Daisy" she had this nickname her whole life	All items in bold Tray Towel

Public Restroom? What ideas do you have for leaving our meeting place even neater than we found it? How can we make it better? Maybe wipe off the tables, not just take your belongings off of it. Sweep the floor. Next, using poster board, write a note signed by all the girls thanking the teacher for letting us use the classroom for our meetings. It's the Girl Scout way to care about the world around us – whether it's a room, a campground, or the world. Activities	Ingredients
6. Snack: GORP Have you ever wondered what goes into making a Girl Scout? Well, we have a recipe to make to show you what we're all about. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Girl Scouts come in all colors, from cities and towns. Every Girl Scout's a sister no matter what she looks like or how she sounds. Add M&Ms to the bowl. 2. Some of us are tall, and some of us are small. When we get together, size doesn't matter at all. Add pretzel sticks and marshmallows. 3. With our words and our actions, we show that we care. We try to do our best to be fair and square. Add Chex cereal to the mix. 4. Sometimes we act a little "loopy," we love to joke and play. We'd love to put a Girl Scout smile into everyone's day. Add fruit loops to the bowl. 5. When we get together, we make circles so round. It's our never-ending friendships to which we are bound. Add Cheerios to the mix. 6. When we're planning and working, we just don't stop. We keep ourselves busy; all around we will pop. Add popcorn. 7. We respect all creatures, if they're big or they're small. The earth is our home, and there is room here for all. Add Goldfish Crackers or Animal Crackers. 8. It was 1912 when Juliette Low started us off. And like the girls back then, we're just "chips off the old block" Add butterscotch, chocolate and white chocolate chips. 9. We get a "kick" out of learning and doing new things, and a "kick" out of helping others, and spending time with friends. Add Kix cereal to the bowl. 11. Now we stir to the left and we stir to the right. We mix it together with all of our might. We welcome our troop to another great year, and hope the memories they make, they will always hold dear. Now that our recipe is complete, we look upon what we have created. Each of the ingredients went into our recipe separately, just like each of the girls came into the troop separately. As the ingredients mix together to form one dish, our girls mix together to form a troop. But even as we look upon our mix, we can still see each ingredient as separate and unique. Our girls bring each of their own unique talents and characteristics to our troop to make it what it is. Older girl tip: We have found that both older and younger girls love activities with food! Older girls could help facilitate younger girls in sharing examples of each ingredient.	M&Ms Pretzels Chex cereal Fruit Loops cereal Cheerios cereal Kix cereal Popcorn Goldfish or Animal crackers Butterscotch chips Chocolate chips White chocolate chips Note: This recipe can get expensive, so feel free to pick a few of these ingredients to make your own trail mix.
